

WYOMING CHAPTER OF ARMA
Chapter Meeting March 9, 2010
Wyoming Chapter Spring Seminar
“ Tweeting in the Cloud-The Perfect Storm-Social Networking
The Cloud & Messaging Issues & Risks
Cheyenne Kiwanis Community House, 4603 Lions Park Drive, Cheyenne, WY

Please Note: These minutes are abridged.

Topic: Tweeting In the Cloud,The Perfect Storm? Social Networking, “The Cloud”& Messaging Issues & Risks

Speaker: Patrick Cunningham, CRM, FAI; Director of Information Management Collection and Preservation, Motorola, Inc.

Pat Newbern, President opened the seminar by welcoming everyone and thanking them for attending. She introduced the Wyoming ARMA Chapter Board, seminar committee members and special guests and reviewed the day’s schedule. Pat then introduced our speaker, Patrick Cunningham.

Mr. Cunningham opened the seminar with a presentation titled “To Infinity and Beyond-The Challenge of Technology in the Information Management Arena”. He discussed the many challenges technology brings to records management. At the morning break the Silent Auction was opened and three door prizes were given away. Following the morning break Mr. Cunningham discussed “The Perfect Storm: Messaging and the Records Manager”. This session involved discussion relating to some of the issues of electronic messaging systems. Following the lunch break additional door prizes were given away and Mr. Cunningham continued with “The Cloud and Web 2.0 – Issues and Risks for Consideration”. At the afternoon break Silent Auction bidders were asked to check the sheets for winning bids and to please pay for items. Final door prizes were given out and Mr. Cunningham concluded the seminar with “Social Networking, Twittering and Blogging: Considerations for Policy and Management” followed with a question and answer period. There were 54 attendees. Pat Newbern thanked Mr. Cunningham and presented him with a speaker gift. She also reminded everyone to fill out and return their evaluations. Donna Crock thanked everyone for attending and announced the Certificates of Completion were on the table in the lobby.

Respectfully submitted by:
Debbie Leonard, Secretary